FOR RELEASE: 6:30 PM CT, Tuesday, September 25, 2007

Charter Communications Announces Determination of the Exchange Consideration for the Exchange Offer for its Outstanding 5.875% Convertible Senior Notes Due 2009

ST. LOUIS, MO– Charter Communications, Inc. (Nasdaq: CHTR) (“Charter” or the “Company”) announced today the determination of the exchange consideration for the exchange offer (“Exchange Offer”) by its subsidiary, Charter Communications Holding Company, LLC for the Company’s outstanding 5.875% Convertible Senior Notes due 2009 (“Existing Convertible Notes”). The Exchange Offer is for any and all of Charter’s $413 million aggregate principal amount of Existing Convertible Notes.

The exchange consideration for the Existing Convertible Notes has been determined based on the average of the daily volume-weighted average price of Charter’s Class A common stock for the ten consecutive trading days ending (and including) September 25, 2007 (“10-day VWAP”). The 10-day VWAP has been determined to be $2.6219.

On the settlement date, which the Company expects to be October 2, 2007, holders of Existing Convertible Notes will receive the following exchange consideration per $1,000 principal amount of Existing Convertible Notes validly tendered and not validly withdrawn in the Exchange Offer:

- $1,317.01 principal amount of the Company’s new 6.5% Convertible Senior Notes due 2027 (“New Convertible Notes”) and
 - $22.19 in cash for accrued interest from May 16, 2007, the last interest payment date up to, but not including, the settlement date of the Exchange Offer.

The New Convertible Notes will have an initial conversion price of $3.41, and initial conversion rate of 293.3868. The New Convertible Notes will have a maturity date of October 1, 2027, subject to earlier redemption at the option of the Company or repurchase at the option of the holders. The New Convertible Notes provide the holders with the right to require Charter to repurchase some or all of the New Convertible Notes for cash on October 1, 2012, 2017 and 2022 at a repurchase price equal to the principal amount plus accrued interest. Additional terms of the Exchange Offer and the New Convertible Notes are provided in the Amendment No. 1 to the Company's Form S-4 filed September 14, 2007 with the SEC.

If a holder of New Convertible Notes elects to convert the New Convertible Notes at any time following the date we give notice of an anticipated effective date of a change of control transaction during a specific period, we will increase the applicable conversion rate by a number of additional shares of Charter's Class A common stock for the New Convertible Notes surrendered for conversion in accordance with the following table:

- if the stock price is between two stock prices described in the table or the effective date is between two dates on the table, the number of shares by which the conversion rate will be increased will be determined by straight-line interpolation between the percentage increases set forth for the higher and lower stock price amounts and the two dates, as applicable, based on a 365 day year;
- if the stock price is in excess of $39.33, no additional shares will be added to the conversion rate; and
- if the stock price is less than $2.62, no additional shares will be added to the conversion rate.

In no event will the total number of shares of Class A common stock issuable upon conversion exceed 381.4028 shares per $1,000 principal amount of New Convertible Notes. The same maximum will also apply to any redemption make whole amount that may arise from a holder's election to convert New Convertible Notes into shares following a redemption notice from Charter.

Subject to applicable securities laws and the terms set forth in the Exchange Offer, Charter Holdco reserves the right to amend the Exchange Offer in any respect.

The Exchange Offer is valid for Existing Convertible Notes tendered for exchange and not validly withdrawn on or prior to 11:59 pm on September 27, 2007 (the "Expiration Date").

The New Convertible Notes will not be listed on any national securities exchange and will not be eligible for trading on the PORTALSM Market. Instead, the New Convertible Notes will trade on the over the counter market.
